AROUND ARIZONA.

On the 13th inst. the first Arizona oranges of the crop for 1895 went on to Chicago. The shipment was from Phoenix.

A carload of canaigre root is being loaded to-day at the Maricopa & Phoenix depot, which will be shipped to Liverpool. Large quantities of that root are being dug and prepared for shipment in the vicinity of Phoenix.—Herald.

Frederick Romero and James Montague fought a duel on the 4th instant near Bisbee in which each received injuries that will probably prove fatal. Romero believed Montague had alienated the affections of his wife and challenged him to fight.

The territorial prison is going to experiment in the bee business and produce the honey needed for home consumption. An apiary of twenty-five stands of bees were received at the prison yesterday and placed in a shelter already prepared for them. A single hive at the prison produced over 200 pounds of honey last summer.—Star.

Corn is coming into town from the ranches about Salomomville in great quantities. It is all taken by the merchants in the ear. Later on it will be shelled and sacked. The corn this year is of excellent quality and the crop is much larger than ever before. The yield this year in the valley will probably amount to 1,500,000 pounds.—Bulletin.

The Grand Lodge of Masons of Arizona held their annual meeting in Prescott last week and elected the following officers: Grand master, A. L. Grow of Tombstone; deputy grand master, W. F. Nichols of Wilcox; senior grand warden, W. M. Griffith of Pinal; junior grand warden, J. B. Creamer of Phoenix; grand treasurer, M. W. Kales of Phoenix; grand secretary, George J. Roskrug of Tucson.

Arizona records an output of gold, silver and copper for eighteen years ending June 30, 1895, amounting to $113,739,128. For last year the output was as follows: Gold, $1,260,000, being an increase over the previous year of $2,179,750; the silver output for last year was 1,750,000 ounces, of a value of $1,135,500, being a decrease of $572,560. The copper output for the same period was 49,661,288 pounds, the value of which was $6,207,611, being an increase of 31,390,789 pounds.

Wednesday, while Henry Roberts was cattle hunting on the Sandy, his packmule, that he was leading, took a notion to stop suddenly, jerking up the hammer of a sixshooter carried by Roberts with the halter rope, the ball entering the leg above the knee and coming out the side of the foot. He was brought to Kingman yesterday, and is now resting easy at the house of his sister, Mrs. W. Starkey. Dr. Ealy says there are no bones broken, and that though painful the wound is not necessarily serious. A mule is an uncertain animal at all times.—Mineral Wealth.

Articles of incorporation have been drawn up and signed for a local incorporation which has for its object the building of a fine hospital in West Prescott. The incorporators are Dr. Dutcher, R. E. Morrison, Dennis Burke, W. O. O'Neill and A. Quetu. The institution will be called the Mercy Hospital and will be in charge of the Sisters of Mercy, who will buy in the stock as fast as they are able to do so until they own the institution. People charitably disposed will not be called on to donate, but invest in stock, the money so invested to be returned to them as the sisters make it, and make it they certainly will. The idea originated with Dr. Reynolds and is a good one.—Courier.

The Prescott Courier has moved into new and more commodious quarters in the second story of the Scapel block. The Courier has these many years occupied the darkest and most gloomy quarters of any newspaper in the territory, and it will be a long time before Editor Rogers will become accustomed to his light and commodious new office. The SUN congratulates the Courier upon its removal, and wishes it such continued prosperity that it may require the entire Scapel block in which to transact its business.

Hobart Convicted.

When C. E. Hobart was arraigned several days since on the charge of murdering John Miller, he most strenuously objected to having counsel appear for him and insisted on pleading guilty, repeating the assertion no less than five times that he was guilty. The court directed, however, that a plea of not guilty be entered upon the records and November 13th was set for the trial of the case. On account of another criminal case being on trial that day his trial went over to the next day. On being brought into court on Thursday he was asked by the judge if he still desired to plead guilty, to which he answered in the affirmative, and the clerk was directed to enter his plea of guilty.

The district attorney was then asked if he had any testimony to offer to show the court the nature of the crime, when he introduced two witnesses, William Sachs and Washington Roseberry, both of whom were in Miller's saloon at the time the atrocious murder was committed and were eye-witnesses to the crime.

Both of them testified to the same general facts and the testimony was substantially as follows:

Miller was standing in his saloon, between the bar and the stove, facing the front door, when Hobart entered the door, Winchester in hand. As he got inside the saloon he pulled the Winchester down on Miller and said: "Now, Miller, you ———, I want your money or I'll kill you," and almost simultaneously with the demand he fired the gun, before Miller even had a chance to reply. Miller fell to the floor, and without even uttering a sound died within a few minutes. Sachs started to arise from his chair when Hobart turned the gun towards him and said: "If you move, you ———, I'll kill you, too," and with the gun still leveled at him backed out of the door. As he did so a click was heard as if he had worked the lever of his Winchester to throw another cartridge in.

Roseberry testified that about half an hour before the shooting Hobart had been at Miller's place looking for his dog. No other testimony was introduced, and the court fixed next Friday, November 22d, as the date for passing sentence.

The crime was one of the most atrocious ever committed in this country, rivaling that of Dilda when he shot from ambush Deputy Sheriff Murphy ten years ago at Walnut Creek.—Journal-Miner.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, 75c.

Big Sheep Deal.

L. Trauer and H. E. Campbell, representing the Arizona Land and Stock Company of Flagstaff, have returned to the city from Milton Dow's Fecunda ranch, where they sold and turned over to Alejandro Sandoval 3,000 head of fine Arizona ewes and a complement of fine bucks. The delivery of the sheep was made Tuesday. Mr. Sandoval is constantly improving his flocks, and this purchase is considered an important one from that standpoint. Mr. Trauer has disposed of a number of his fine French merino bucks to local sheepmen who are desirous of increasing their wool clips and market advantages.—Albuquerque Citizen.

Just arrived at the Flagstaff Commercial Company, a carload of the celebrated Monarch canned goods. Nothing like them in the way of canned goods.

An Arizona Duel.

Just at sunrise yesterday morning a bloody duel ending in the death of a prominent cattleman named Montague was fought seven miles south of Bisbee, near the Mexican line. It was all about a woman. He and a man named Romero, both well known in Tucson, have for several years been partners in the cattle business. Romero a few days ago suspected his wife of infidelity, and on Tuesday night accused Montague of having led her astray. A violent quarrel ensued, ending in a challenge by Montague to fight a duel to the death. The challenge was accepted, and the choice of weapons fell to Romero as the challenged party. He chose Spanish knives, and the next morning at sunrise was fixed as the date of the meeting which should surely end in the death of one or the other.

The parties met yesterday morning, each attended by seconds, and a few friends on either side. The fight was fierce but brief, and Romero fell with a disabling cut in his right groin. Immediately a friend of the wounded man sprang upon Montague and stabbed him in the back. Montague died a couple of hours later.—Star.

The Toledo Weekly Blade and Campaign of 1898.

With a great presidential campaign coming next year every thoughtful citizen will need besides his local paper a great national weekly. The greatest and most widely known of these is the Toledo Weekly Blade. For thirty years it has been a regular visitor in every part of the Union, and is well known at almost every one of the 70,000 postoffices in the country. It is edited with reference to a national circulation. It is a Republican paper, but men of all politics take it, because of its honesty and fairness in the discussion of all public questions. It is the favorite family paper, with something for every member of household. Serial stories, poetry, wit and humor; the household department (best in the world), Young Folks, Sunday School Lessons, Talmage's Sermons, the Farmstead, the Question Bureau (which answers questions for subscribers), the News of the Week in complete form, and other special features. Specimen copies gladly sent on application, and if you will mail us a list of addresses we will mail a copy to each. Only $1 a year. If you wish to raise a club write for terms. Address The Blade, Toledo, Ohio.

New Money Order System.

The public will be pleased to know that the Arizona Central Bank has adopted new rates for money orders which are lower than either postoffice or express rates. This will be of great advantage to the public, for the convenience of the bank money order over any other device are innumerable. No application blanks have to be filled out; they are payable when presented, no matter how long outstanding; can be transferred any number of times; duplicates of lost orders obtained without delay or trouble; good and payable throughout the United States and the world. The rates are: $1 or less, 3 cts; over $1 to $7, inclusive, 5 cts; over $7 to $15, 8 cts; over $15 to $30, 10 cts; over $30 to $50, 15 cts; over $50 to $75, 20 cts; over $75 to $100, 25 cts; over $100 at 25 cts per $100.

For Over Fifty Years.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over fifty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething, with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Sold by druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

PRETTY HOME WEDDING.

Miss Pauline Schmid Wedded to John V. Rhoades.

A quiet wedding was that of Miss Pauline Schmid and Mr. John V. Rhoades yesterday afternoon. The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Josephine Schmid and the late August Schmid, and the groom is the only son of Dr. Archibald Rhoades of the United States Navy. The ceremony took place at the corner of 5th avenue and 62d street.

The floral decorations were by Thorley, and consisted of lilies of the valley and orchids and palms, and were very elaborate.

The wedding ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father Kessler. The bride's wedding dress was of satin brocade, with a waist of chiffon and point lace, and a point lace veil. She was attended by her cousin, Miss Emma Schwartz, as a maid of honor. Mr. Charles Tudor Wing was in attendance on the bridegroom as best man.

The ceremony was followed by a wedding breakfast, served by Sherry. The guests, who consisted only of the family and a few most intimate friends, were: Dr. Archibald Rhoades and Miss Rhoades; the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Kleiner; Mr. and Mrs. John Harsen Rhoades, Mr. and Mrs. John C. De La Vergne, the Misses De La Vergne, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Schwartz, Mr. and Mrs. Ashbel P. Fitch, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Rhoades, Mr. Simon E. Bernheimer and Mr. Ellis Wainwright.—New York Mercury, Nov. 15th.
